Brewster:

For DAGs '95 (Dartmouth Publishing Conference) in Boston, here is your agenda:

* "Publishers Perspective" panel, with Bruce Judson (Time-Warner), Peter Prichard (CEO, USA Today) and John Newcomb (CEO, Simon and Schuster).
Thursday June 1 at 4pm to 5:30 pm.

* "Obstacles in Design and Implementation of Company-wide Information Highways" panel, with Peter Gloor (Swiss Bank VP), David Tennehouse (???) and Tim Berners-Lee (WWW Guru) on Friday June 2 from 11am to 12:30pm.

* Keynote Speech of the Day: Friday June 2 from 9am to 10 am. Remember, the topic we suggested was "Web and Beyond: Agent-based Publishing."

You know Bruce Judson right? I'm sure he'll contact you about preparing for the panel. As far as the other panel, I forwarded Peter Gloor's e-mailed to you several weeks ago. Just in case you didn't read it, here it is below:

Dear Lori,

I do have to unrelated requests:

1. I am organizing a panel at the DAGS 95 conference about
"Obstacles in Design and Implementation of Company-wide Information Highways"

Prof David Tennenhouse and Tim Berners-Lee have already agreed to be on the panel. I have been told by Fillia Makedon that your president will also be giving a talk at DAGS 95. I would like to invite him to be on the panel. Could you please forward this message to him, or give me his e-mail address.

2. I am the section leader for software engineering at Union Bank of Switzerland, the largest Swiss Bank. There I am responsible, among other things, for the company-wide information and document management system. I am now highly interested in using a commercial version of WAIS for our system. Could you please send me product information, and give me the address of the European office, if there is one.

With kind regards
Peter Gloor

PS. I got your e-mail address from Fillia Makedon
